NOW TAKING BOOKINGS FOR AUTUMN 2020 & SPRING 2021

Fun-loving Oskar is bored in Grandma's snowbound little house on top of the mountain and goes out to find a friendly animal to play with. But the animals he meets are more interested in dinner than a game and Oskar can only avoid the attentions of a hungry fox by falling down a deep hole and landing on top of a young, hibernating marmot. Marmot forgives Oskar for waking her up and using her amazing whistling and digging skills reunites the little dog with his family. Oskar has such fun escaping the fox that he wants to play more but must wait until spring for Marmot to finish her long winter's sleep.
